MIAMI

THE FIRST AND ONLY LUXURY BOUTIQUE TOWER IN EAST EDGEWATER

Rising directly from the shores of Biscayne Bay in the wonderful emerging neighborhood of East Edgewater, Elysee Miami sets a new standard for refined luxury with its masterful confluence of design, luxury and waterfront location. At 57 stories, Elysee is tall and impressive, but with only 100 residences -- no more than two per floor -- Elysee maintains the intimacy and sophistication of living in a boutique-style building. Each residence has the unique distinction of having an unobstructed, breathtaking view of Biscayne Bay.

World-renowned architect Bernardo Fort-Brescia, of Arquitectonica, has designed Elysee to be instantly recognizable yet discreet. This is not an ordinary residential tower. From its three-tiered telescoping shape and alluringly light tones to the fine materials used to construct it, Elysee is an exquisite tribute to the power of design to lift the soul. Inside, France's top interior designer, Jean-Louis Deniot, introduces his rich signature style. At once timeless, elegant and entirely fresh, Deniot's vision brings a new level of fine living to Miami.

This is living the way it is supposed to be, realizing what life really has to offer -- and getting it. A rare place, not so easy to access and very special once you're in.

For the lucky few, the experience of living at Elysee Miami starts at the waterfront and goes on to provide the world's finest lifestyle.

INTERIOR DESIGNER: JEAN-LOUIS DENIOT

Featured on the ELLE Decor and AD 100 lists of the world's preeminent talents in architecture and interior design, Jean-Louis Deniot has long been in the business of creating atmospheres. His décors are his playground, spaces where spontaneity and magic are de rigueur. Recognized worldwide for his eclectic and emblematic interiors, Jean-Louis Deniot plays in a multiplicity of repertoires, never sticking to purity of style, rather letting his academic training translate into a vocabulary that is both informal and bold. If he does contemporary, it is always with a weighty dose of history and references infused into it to produce a timeless yet timely scenario.

Minimalism is not for Jean-Louis Deniot as neither is excess. Balance and osmosis is what he is after, offsetting the sometimes rigid facet of architecture with an inmost vision of refinement, comfort and openness making his creations around the world havens to revel in. For him, style equates lifestyle and must promote harmony and wellbeing. A great enthusiast of iconic designs, his decors feature no shortage of arresting materials and textures tempered with subtle color palettes, muted tones and impeccable lighting. At the crossroads between classical terminology and contemporary aesthetics, Jean-Louis Deniot's interiors are serene, elegant and dramatic as awash with nods to other time periods, yet never typical or literal.

His past projects span houses in the Hamptons, an apartment in Chicago, chalets in Aspen, private residences in Miami Beach, an entirely revamped original Paul Williams property in Beverly Hills, an Art Deco city house and a palace in New Delhi, a 1930's style penthouse in Milan, a summer house in Capri, a 70's style apartment in Colombia, and an estate in Monaco. Paris is home to several stunning achievements such as mansions and private apartments among countless others.

Jean-Louis Deniot has also earned recognition for the furniture and lighting collections in collaboration with Jean de Merry, George Smith, Collection Pierre, Pouenat, Bronze d'Art Français and more recently Marc de Berny with the Sparkx Collection. All his bespoke lines are designed in the continuity and respect of each brand's personality and style yet replete with forward-thinkingness and savory twists.

With a list of locales that resembles the index of an atlas, a few current Jean-Louis Deniot projects include a house in Beverly Hills, an apartment on Fifth Avenue and a twenty-story residential tower on Broadway in New York, five unique residences in London, a large house on the Bosphorus in Istanbul, a stupendous city duplex and a spacious country home in Moscow, private homes in New Delhi and Chandigarh, India, and several distinctive apartments in Paris' most sought-after neighborhoods. Adventuresome in nature, Jean-Louis Deniot undertakes each of his projects with the vigor and inquisitiveness that is peculiar to true visionaries, conceiving and defining novel design aesthetics with utmost dash and confidence.

Jean-Louis Deniot is proud to be regularly featured in international publications including Architectural Digest (US), AD France, AD Spain, AD Germany, AD Russia, AD India, House and Garden, Belle Australia, ELLE Decor US, ELLE Decoration in France and Russia, Marie Claire Italy, More Than Classic Holland, as well as a number of Emirates and Asian magazines, making him one of the most published designers of today.
