Bay Harbor Islands is a picturesque town located in Miami, Florida. Incorporated in 1947, it has since flourished into a vibrant community. Consisting of two islands: the west with single-family homes and the east island with multi family apartments and a varied business district. This waterfront enclave is surrounded by Biscayne Bay and borders the towns of Surfside, Indian Creek and Bal Harbour. The town is home to many street side café's and shops as well as professional offices. Furthermore it is the home of one of South Florida's premier schools: Ruth K Broad Bay Harbor K-8 Center. Bay Harbor is walking distance from the renowned Bal Harbour Shops, and the beautiful beaches along Collins Avenue. Bay Harbor is about 30 minutes driving distance from the Miami International Airport and is centrally situated between Aventura and South Beach.
